Secrets of Hot Tub Technician & Why We Choose the Sunrise Spas Brand

As a service based company, we have repaired and refurbished hundreds of Hot Tubs here in the Fraser Valley. We've committed to offering transparency and education to ensure our customers have the ability to make confident choices on how to invest their dollars. Although a brand new Hot Tub will not require attention for many years, we strive to protect our customer's investment, and to minimize expensive maintenance bills down the road.

BENEFITS OF A HOT TUB

For some a Hot Tub is seen as a luxury, for others it is a necessity for a functional life. Aside from being a great addition to your backyard, a hot tub can be a crucial tool for a healthy mind, body and soul. Hot tubs are proven to assist with minor aches and pains, soothe sore joints and muscles, provide therapy for arthritis, tendinitis, and fibromyalgia. Its also a great way to relieve stress. Soak in the morning to start the day off right, or in the evening to melt the day away and get an incredible night sleep.

AVERAGE CONSTRUCTION

The average new hot tub can range in price from as low as $5000 to upwards of $20,000! The price of a hot tub can be based on many factors including materials used, size, equipment, or simply brand name. Unfortunately, in the case of Hot Tubs, just because it's more expensive, doesn't always mean it's a sound investment. With continued rising costs of living, we want your Hot Tub to retain its value and see you through many years to come.

Most commonly what you will find are Hot Tubs built with un-pressured treated wood frames & insulated with a ½ lbs expansion foam. The skirting is cedar paneling (sometimes a single piece that doesn't allow any access to plumbing) or synthetic compressed siding. There are variations of this type of construction, but the majority of companies will use 1 or more of these potentially problematic elements in their manufacturing.

What does that mean for the lifespan of your Hot Tub?

We encounter these 3 scenario's regularly in the field.

1) Your Hot Tub reaches an age where it will require maintenance, and happens to spring a leak or many leaks!

2) Rodents have made a very comfortable home in the foam, chewing through pipes, creating nests, and defecating in your tub.

3) Over many years, the Fraser Valley's temperate rain forest causing a moist/wet environment has taken its toll on the construction.

When this happens the expansion foam makes it very difficult to identify where water is leaking from, if you happen to notice in time. It also absorbs the water, rendering the insulation value useless. The water being held by the expansion foam then has time to saturate and eventually rot out sections of the frame, and often into the skirted panels. A repair of this nature would require....

- Full day's labour to manually dig out expansion foam
- Materials & labour to replace rot damage
- Parts & labour for a leak repair
- Materials & labour for re-insulation
- Materials & labour for Skirt Reconstruction

Also with rodent damage, the scent of their previous habitation is very difficult to neutralize.

With some foresight into maintenance and construction, the original issue (plumbing leak) could have cost a few hundred dollars and kept the lifespan of that hot tub moving forward, is now estimated in the THOUSANDS to repair. 90% of our customers choose to put their once high end/costly Hot Tub into the landfill.
